

Speaker Biographies

ARNALDO ABRUZZINI has been Secretary General of EUROCHAMBRES, the Association of European Chambers of Commerce and Industry since 1999. He is a senior lobbyist in Brussels and represents over 20 million companies through members in 43 countries and a network of 1,700 regional and local Chambers. He is also an active entrepreneur, having founded several companies. He still owns shares in Telecommunication (Interactive Media), Energy (InRes) and Business Consulting (Consir) firms. He has been Managing Director of several companies active in the telecommunications sector (EPTA), marketing and communications (MediaCamere) and business consultancy (CoFiCom), in Italy and the United States. He has also served in the financial sector, working in investment banking (MedioBanca) and in insurance (Bavaria). He started his career as an auditor in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, in 1979 with Arthur Andersen. Born in Rome, he is a graduate in economics with a major in finance from the University of Rome.

GABRIEL CREAN is Vice-President for Technology and Director for Europe of CEAtch, the Technological Research Division of the Atomic Energy and Alternatives Energy Commission (CEA) in France. He was previously Scientific Director of the Technological Research Division from 2009 to 2012. He is an Advisor to the President of the Institut National Polytechnique de Grenoble on research policies, as well as a visiting Professor. He is recognised internationally for his contribution to European science, technology & innovation policy. He is an Academic Fellow of the European Policy Centre and chairs the EPC Task Force on “A new European Industrial Policy.” He is an elected Fellow of the European Academy of Sciences and Arts and has acted as a consultant for several European member state governments and the European Commission. In 2013, he was appointed Chairman of the Sherpa group of the European Commission High Level Group on Key Enabling Technologies to advise the European Commission on a competitive technological and industrial policy. He has been a member since 2011 of the European Commission Mirror Group on Smart Specialisation. He is also a co-founder of three venture-capital backed high-technology companies. He is a Fellow of the Institute of Engineers of Ireland and a Fellow of the Institute of Physics of the U.K. He is Vice-President of the UNESCO Chair in Materials Science created in February 2014.

PHILIPPE DE TAXIS DU PÖËT is Policy Officer in the International Affairs and Missions for Growth Unit, in the Directorate-General for Internal Market, Industry, Entrepreneurship and SMEs, at the European Commission. Educated in France, he qualified as an “Ingénieur” in biological engineering and has a PhD in biotechnology. Before joining the European Commission in 1991, he worked for 10 years in industry, in Canada in the Pulp and Paper industry, in the electronics industry, in Japan, and in the pharmaceutical industry in Italy. In the Commission he worked first in the Research and Innovation Directorate General on public and private investment in research and technological innovation. From 2005-2009, he was Head of Science and Technology at the European Commission Delegation in Tokyo. He then became Minister Counsellor and Head of the Research & Innovation at the Delegation of the European Union to India, in Delhi (from 2009 to 2013). On his return to Brussels in 2014, he took up his current post.

Speaker Biographies

ROY D. KAMPHAUSEN is Senior Advisor for Political and Security Affairs at the National Bureau of Asian Research (NBR) and an Adjunct Associate Professor at Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs. He previously served as Senior Vice President for Political and Security Affairs and Director of NBR's Washington, D.C., office.

Mr. Kamphausen was deputy director of the IP Commission in 2012 and an author of the Commission's Report on the Theft of American Intellectual Property. His additional publications include New Collaborative Approaches to IP Protection and the last eight volumes from the annual PLA Conference, published by the U.S. Army War College, including Assessing the People's Liberation Army in the Hu Jintao Era, edited by Roy Kamphausen, David Lai, and Travis Tanner (Strategic Studies Institute, 2014). Mr. Kamphausen testifies regularly before Congress and consults with the U.S. Department of Defense. His analysis appears regularly in major international media, including Foreign Policy, Financial Times, New York Times, National Public Radio, and Newsweek.

MEREDITH MILLER is Senior Vice President of Trade, Economic, and Energy Affairs and Director of the Washington, D.C., office at the National Bureau of Asian Research (NBR). She has experience in both the public and nonprofit sectors, having served at the U.S. Department of State as the Deputy Director for the Office of Economic Policy in the Bureau of East Asia and Pacific Affairs and as an analyst in the Bureau of Intelligence and Research. Prior to joining the State Department, she worked at the U.S.-Vietnam Trade Council on a technical assistance program to support completion of a bilateral trade agreement between the United States and Vietnam as the last step toward full normalization of relations between the two countries.

CHRISTOPH RADEMACHER serves as an Associate Professor at Waseda University School of Law in Japan. His publications include The Enforcement of Patent Rights in Japan (Institute of Intellectual Property Publication Series, 2011), The Enforcement of Patent and Trademark Rights in Germany, Japan and the US (Nomos Verlagsgesellschaft, 2010), and Protection of Geographic Indications in Japanese Trademark Law (GRUR Int., 2006).

PRAVAKAR SAHOO is an Associate Professor at the Institute of Economic Growth (IEG), Delhi University, and a former South Asia Fellow at the East-West Center in Washington, D.C. Prior to joining IEG, he was a Senior Fellow in the Indian Council for Research on International Economic Relations. He has worked in national and international organizations on issues related to macroeconomics, international trade and investment, regional cooperation, infrastructure, and FDI, and teaches macroeconomics to Indian government officials and policymakers, including Indian Economic Service officers.

Speaker Biographies

NEENA GILL is Member of the European Parliament for the West Midlands, UK. She is a member of the Committee for Economic and Monetary Affairs, and substitute for the Foreign Affairs Committee. She is First Vice-President to the Delegation for Relations with India, and a member of the Delegation to the U.S. This is her third term as MEP, having previously served from 1999-2009. During the previous terms, Ms Gill was President of the EP Delegation for Relations with India, President (2004–2007) of the EP Delegation for Relations with South Asia and SAARC countries, Vice President (2002–2004) of the EP Delegation for Relations with South Asia, ASEAN and SAARC countries. She was also Member for The Legal Affairs Committee and a member of the Budgets Committee, Ex-Officio member of the SAARC Delegation, 2007, and the Committee for Industry, Research and Energy. In her years out of office she worked as the Vice-President for Corporate Affairs in the SAS software company. Prior to becoming an MEP, she was a CEO of two housing organisations. She graduated in Social Sciences, has a post-graduate professional qualification from the Chartered Institute of Housing, and is an alumna of the London Business School.

FABIAN ZULEEG is Chief Executive of the European Policy Centre. Before taking up his current position, he was Chief Economist at the EPC, a post he still holds. He works closely with decision makers in the European institutions, the EPC members and partners and the wider Brussels stakeholder community and continues to lead the EPC's work on economic, social and environmental issues, as well as the EU-UK relationship. Prior to joining the EPC, he worked as an Economic Analyst in the private and public sectors. He holds a PhD in Political Economy of EU enlargement from Edinburgh University. His research focuses on the economic crisis, in particular how European policy and economic governance can address Europe's dual growth crisis: a low aggregate growth rate and growth divergence, and on the long-term governance reforms needed to ensure the sustainability of the European integration process. He also has a long standing interest in the Single Market, European labour markets and the EU budget. He regularly comments on current political and economic issues in the EU in the media and has researched and published widely on European economic policies.