

Maritime Energy Resources in Asia: Opportunities for Joint Development

Project Experts

Principal Investigator

- Dr. Clive Schofield, Australian National Centre for Ocean Resources and Security

Advisors

- Professor Dr. Ambassador Hasjim Djalal, Hasjim Djalal, Hardjuni & Partners
- Professor Ian Townsend-Gault, University of British Columbia

Researchers

- Mr. I Made Andi Arsana, Australian National Centre for Ocean Resources and Security
- Mr. Lowell Bautista, Australian National Centre for Ocean Resources and Security
- Ms. Tara Davenport, National University of Singapore
- Ms. Dini Djalal
- Dr. Yingchun Gong, China Foreign Affairs University
- Dr. Zhao Hong, National University of Singapore
- Ms. Atsuko Kanehara, Sophia University
- Dr. Seokwoo Lee, INHA University Law School
- Ms. Jianwei Li, National Institute for South China Sea Studies
- Mr. Nick Owen, University of Cambridge
- Dr. Ian Storey, Institute for Southeast Asian Studies
- Dr. May Tan-Mullins, University of Nottingham, Ningbo
- Dr. Tran Truong Thuy, Diplomatic Academy of Vietnam
- Dr. Kuan-Hsiung Wang, National Taiwan Normal University

Publications

Maritime Energy Resources in Asia: Energy and Geopolitics (December 2011)

- “Disputed South China Sea Oil in Context” by Nick Owen
- “Energy Security Concerns: The View from China and Southeast Asia” by Zhao Hong
- “Indonesia: Domestic Transformation and the Implications for Maritime Energy Security in Southeast Asia” by Dini Djalal

- “The Implications of Seabed Energy Resource Development: The Gulf of Thailand Case” by May Tan-Mullins
- “The Development and Current Status of Maritime Disputes in the East China Sea” by Yingchun Gong
- “Provisional Arrangements as Equitable Legal Management of Maritime Delimitation Disputes in the East China Sea” by Atsuko Kanehara
- “Asia’s Changing Balance of Military Power: Implications for the South China Sea Dispute” by Ian Storey
- “The Declaration on the Conduct of Parties in the South China Sea and Developing Maritime Energy Resources” by Tran Truong Thuy

Maritime Energy Resources in Asia: Legal Regimes and Cooperation (January 2012)

- “Maritime Cooperation in a Functional Perspective” by Ian Townsend-Gault
- “UNCLOS and the Obligation to Cooperate” by Seokwoo Lee
- “Recent Practice in Dispute Management in the South China Sea” by Jianwei Li and Ramses Amer
- “Joint Development in Asia: Some Valuable Lessons Learned” by Tara Davenport
- “The Implications of Recent Decisions of International Courts and Tribunals on the Territorial and Maritime Boundary Disputes in East and Southeast Asia” by Lowell Bautista
- “Adding Further Complexity: Outer Continental Shelf in East and Southeast Asia?” by Andi Arsana and Clive Schofield
- “Regime of Islands in the UNCLOS and its Implications on the Disputes in the South China Sea” by Dustin Kuan-Hsiung Wang and Clive Schofield